PROCEDURE REGARDING THE PRESENCE OF BLOOD
DURING ATHLETIC CONTESTS

The successful management of body fluid spills requires a cooperative effort among players, coaches, officials, and parents. Because the potential for blood spills during athletic events is high, procedures must be practiced and well understood in advance. The Warren County School District expects that athletic coordinators and others associated with sports will enthusiastically adopt and carry out recommended procedures. It should be emphasized that the procedures are necessary for the health and safety of all who participate in sporting events.

The procedures for dealing with blood spills during athletic events can generally be carried out within the injury or time-out rules inherent to each sport. For those sports not having a specific injury rule, the official shall allow sideline personnel to attend to the bleeding athlete. An athlete shall not continue competition unless the bleeding is controlled and the wound is covered. Any athlete who has left the contest due to bleeding shall not re-enter the contest until the bleeding has been controlled and the wound covered. The following general rules shall apply:

1. Before competing, cover any open wounds.
2. When a contest official observes an athlete bleeding during competition, the competition shall be stopped on completion of the play or action in progress. Injuries creating visible bleeding shall be treated as any other injury in that the injured athlete shall be removed from the contest for the length of time specified by that sport's injury rule and given proper attention. Specific injury rules for common sports are as follows:
 - a. Football: A time-out occurs when an injured or apparently injured player is discovered by the official. The player shall be replaced for at least one down unless halftime, overtime, or other time-out occurs.
 - b. Basketball: A player who is injured to the extent that the coach or any other bench personnel is beckoned or comes onto the court shall leave the game and may not return prior to the first opportunity for such player to return.
 - c. Soccer: A team must substitute when an injured player is attended to on the field. In such a case, the injured player must be replaced until the next legal opportunity for substitution.
 - d. Wrestling: When a contest official observes a wrestler bleeding during a wrestling match, the match shall be stopped to allow first-aid to be administered to the injured wrestler. The bleeding shall be controlled and the wound covered before the wrestler will be allowed to return to participation. Any blood appearing on a wrestler's body shall be wiped from the body. Any blood appearing on a wrestler's uniform shall be wiped from the uniform. If this is not possible, the item of clothing shall be replaced with an unsoiled garment. Surfaces (i.e., wrestling mat) contaminated with blood shall be properly cleaned with an approved disinfectant solution before competition resumes.

PROCEDURE REGARDING THE PRESENCE OF BLOOD DURING ATHLETIC CONTESTS

3. When a contest official observes an excessive amount of blood on a participant or on their uniform, that participant shall leave the contest for the length of time specified by the sport's injury rule and the blood shall be wiped from the participant and/or their uniform. If this is not possible, the item of clothing shall be replaced with an unsoiled garment. For those sports not having a specific injury rule, the official shall allow sideline personnel to wipe the blood off the athlete and play shall be resumed. An excessive amount of blood is that amount which could be easily transferred from one athlete to another.
4. When a contest is stopped due to blood being present, any washable surfaces (i.e. wrestling mat, gym floor, pool deck) contaminated with blood shall be properly cleaned with an approved disinfectant solution before competition resumes.
5. First-aid should be administered by sideline personnel, not by contest officials.

PROCEDURES FOR CLEANING SOILED WASHABLE MATERIALS

During a game or practice, if uniforms and other clothing become contaminated with blood or other body fluids containing visible blood to the extent that the blood could be transferred from one person to another by touch, the clothing should be wiped off with an approved disinfectant solution using either cloth/paper towels or antiseptic towelettes. Protective gloves should be worn any time another person's blood is involved. Cloth towels should be used only once before laundering and disposable towels/towelettes and gloves should be discarded in a plastic container, sealed, and disposed of daily. If enough blood is present that it could be transmitted to another person, upon removal of the clothing, the item(s) should be placed in a plastic bag and sealed until laundering. Clearly mark the plastic bag so those handling it know that it contains items soiled with blood. Items soiled with blood or body fluids containing visible blood should be handled as little as possible. The most important factor in laundering clothing contaminated in the school setting is the elimination of potentially infectious agents by a disinfectant soap and warm water. Addition of bleach will further reduce the number of potentially infectious agents. Clothing soaked with body fluids should be washed separately from other items. Presoaking may be required for heavily soiled clothing. If the material is bleachable, add ½ cup of household bleach to the wash cycle. If material is not colorfast, add ½ cup non-chlorine bleach to the wash cycle.

MOUTH-TO-MOUTH RESUSCITATION PROCEDURES

Although saliva itself has not been shown to transmit blood borne pathogens, it is recommended that mouthpieces that prevent direct mouth-to-mouth contact or other resuscitation devices be made available to minimize the need for direct mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Individuals who may find it necessary to use such devices should be trained as to the proper use.

* Approved cleaning solutions may change from time to time.
