

QUALIFIED ZONE ACADEMY BOND (QZAB) PROGRAM Guidelines

INTRODUCTION

The Qualified Zone Academy Bond (QZAB) Program was established under Section 226 of the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997, and, as amended in 1999, appears in Section 1397E of the Internal Revenue Service Code. The American Recovery and Reinvestment Tax Act extended and expanded the QZAB program for 2008, 2009 and 2010. This federal program allows for certain schools, known as education zone academies, to finance the renovation of school facilities, purchase equipment, and, if allowed by state law, provide up-to-date technology and instructional materials on an interest-free, or nearly interest-free, basis through the allocation of federal subsidy payments.

For 2008, 2009 and 2010, the U.S. Department of the Treasury has allocated a total of $112,391,000 ($13,941,000 for 2008, $48,793,000 for 2009, and $49,657,000 for 2010) of QZAB authority to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The Pennsylvania Department of Education is responsible for making allocations to local school districts. The Bureau of Budget and Fiscal Management, Division of School Facilities, is responsible for administering the program.

How do QZABs work?

Use of funds: 100 percent of the available project proceeds must be used for renovation, repair or rehabilitation of existing public school facilities or for equipment to be used at the academy. The renovation, repair and rehabilitation work must support the academic program (academy) being proposed. QZAB proceeds may also be used to provide up-to-date technology or instructional materials but only if the intended use can be classified as a capital asset under the Local Government Unit Debt Act (LGUDA). Bond counsel should refer to the definition of a project under the LGUDA. Questions related to LGUDA should be directed to the Department of Community and Economic Development.

Private Contribution Requirement: The school district must enter into a partnership with a private entity or entities to design a program with the goal of enhancing the academic curriculum, increasing graduation and employment rates, and preparing students for college and the workforce.

The partner must make qualified contributions having a present value (as of the date of issuance of the bond issue) of not less than 10 percent of the proceeds of the bond issue. The donations may be comprised of cash, goods, services, internships, etc. Regular tax rules concerning donations apply (consult with bond counsel to ensure contributions meet federal regulations). School districts are encouraged to obtain cash to meet the 10 percent private contribution requirement.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

Who can apply?

School districts submitting an application must meet the following federal criteria:

- Private business contribution: The school district must receive written commitments from private entities to make qualified contributions having a present value (as of the date of issuance of the bond issue) of not less than 10 percent of the proceeds of the bond issue.
- Education plan: The school district must use QZAB proceeds in support of a boardapproved education plan with the goal of enhancing the academic curriculum, increasing graduation and employment rates, and preparing students for college and the workforce. Students in the academy program must be subject to the same standards and assessments as other students in the school district.
- Criteria for school building: As of the date of the issuance of the bonds, there is a reasonable expectation that at least 35 percent of the students attending the project school building will be eligible for free or reduced-cost lunches under the school lunch program established under the National School Lunch Act.

QZAB applications that were received by April 1, 2010, were given consideration for the first award of QZAB allocations. QZAB applications that are received by August 20, 2010, will be given consideration for the second award of QZAB allocations. QZAB applications that are received by October 20, 2010, will be given consideration for the third award of QZAB allocations. After the third award of QZAB allocations, a determination will be made if another solicitation of applications is necessary.

How will allocations be awarded?

Allocations will be awarded on a competitive basis.

A school district may apply for more than one project. In addition to completing the application, the school district must prepare a written monthly spending plan specifying how and when bond proceeds are to be used.

School building projects must address one or more of the following program objectives:

1. Creating sustainable schools (increasing energy efficiency, improving energy and water conservation, reducing greenhouse gas emissions, improving indoor environmental quality, and reducing waste). For more ideas, visit www.greenschoolbuildings.org. School districts are encouraged, but not required, to apply for "green" certification (LEED for Schools silver or higher, two or more Green Globes, Energy Star building rating of 75 or more) in these projects; or

- Creating or renovating space within an existing building's footprint for high-quality pre-school, full-day kindergarten, and/or reducing class size in the early grades; or
- 3. Creating or renovating space within an existing building's footprint for Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) programs; or
- 4. Correcting health and safety deficiencies, including school building security upgrades and building code violations.

If QZAB allocation requests received by the Pennsylvania Department of Education exceed PA's total allocation ($112,391,000), preference will be given to projects based on the following rating system:

- 1. Increasing energy efficiency, improving energy and water conservation, reducing greenhouse gas emissions, improving indoor environmental quality, and reducing waste up to 30 points,
- 2. Creating or renovating space within an existing building's footprint for high-quality pre-school, full-day kindergarten, and/or reducing class size in the early grades up to 30 points,
- 3. Creating or renovating space within an existing building's footprint for Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) programs up to 20 points,
- 4. Addressing health and safety deficiencies, including school building security upgrades up to 10 points,
- 5. Opening bids and starting construction by March 2011 up to 10 points.

Allocation amounts will be based on the level of response to the program and how projects meet the goals and criteria set forth above. If there is significant demand, amounts allocated to individual school districts may be limited.

ISSUANCE OF BONDS

How will bonds be issued?

The 2008 QZABs must be issued by December 31, 2010; the 2009 QZABs must be issued by December 31, 2011; the 2010 QZABs must be issued by December 31, 2012. The State Public School Building Authority will issue the 2008, 2009 and 2010 QZABs to finance eligible projects on behalf of local school districts, and then lend the proceeds of the QZABs to the participating school districts.

Participating school districts must be willing to authorize a general obligation note with a maturity structure consistent with the program requirements. Costs of issuance will be allocated pro rata to participants.

Internal Revenue Service Requirements

- A contract must be in place with a third party to spend down at least 10 percent of the bond proceeds within six months after issuance.
- 100 percent of the proceeds must be spent within 3 years of the bond issuance.
- QZAB proceeds are subject to arbitrage rules.
- Issuers are subject to IRS reporting requirements.
- The maximum maturity and the credit rate for QZABs are determined as of the date that there is a binding, written contract for the sale or exchange of the bond. The applicable maximum maturity, the discount rate for determining the maturity, and QZAB credit rate are published for that date by the Bureau of Public Debt on its internet site for State and Local Government Series securities at: https://www.treasurydirect.gov.
