

Champion Creatively Alive Children Grant Summary

Grant Overview: The Creatively Alive Children grant was developed by Crayola to sponsor innovative, creative leadership team building within elementary schools. Funded requests receive $2,500 in cash and another $1,000 in Crayola products.

A district art teacher would like to apply for a grant to work with the Sugar Grove community that would encourage parents and community members to engage in creative and critical thinking with students on a regular basis. Focus would be on different mediums, with discussions on art history, movements/elements, and principals of design. The teacher envisions integration of other subjects into the activities, such as math, reading, and science.
