Mr. Brian Reynolds – Eisenhower Elementary School - None

Mrs. Ericka Alm – Eisenhower Middle High School

Jordan Jacob won the spelling bee this year. This is the first time an Eisenhower student has won it in over 20 years.

Cael Black scored his 100th win in wrestling.

Ms. Nikki Nichols – Sheffield Area Elementary School

January flew by here at SAES. As we look back on January, we had a snow day and 2-hour delays. The teachers and staff rallied together each day to make sure learning was happening even though some days the building was short of several adults. Each day the kids learned, and it was business as usual for SAES. As the principal, I need to give a HUGE shout out to my people because I was out with COVID for far too long, but they made things happen at SAES. They all know my daily expectations and even without me physically in the building SAES took care of business. The kids participated in fun activities in their specials and the teachers planned for upcoming events in February.

We finished Acadience and CDT testing and the growth is amazing. We have teachers and paras working in small groups addressing individual and small group needs and the difference it is making is starting to show according to the data.

SAES will be having a Basketball Extravaganza on February 17. It is from 5:30 - 9:00 PM on February 17 in the SHS Gymnasium. I mention it now because if I don't in February Positive happenings it will be over. We will be sending an email asking for participants or volunteers from CO. Please, if you can join us for fun as a player, score keeper, ref, seller in the concession stand, ticket seller, or just want to spectate we would love to have you.

There is also a lot of planning happening for the 100th Day Celebration and Valentine's Day Celebrations, which at this point are on the same day.

Of course, we will be doing something for "Twosday" Tuesday, 2-22-22. We will be sporting tutus, ties, and/or two crazy socks/shoes.

We are looking forward to celebrating Read Across America activities Feb 28 - March 4. I will be sending out an email to CO for guest readers, either in person or via ZOOM. So please be looking for those emails. We will be dressing like our favorite Dr. Seuss character or favorite book character on Wednesday, March 2 and will have a parade of characters during the day that we will post on Facebook. As the rest of the activities for the week are planned, we will post those as well. Each day in the auditorium before we dismiss for class a teacher will read a book to the entire school that correlates with the theme for the day. I think it will be fun for all of us.

So much to look forward to coming up.

Mr. Glenn Smith – Sheffield Area Middle High School

The library is getting a new reference desk installed which will give it a much-needed aesthetic improvement. It is scheduled to be installed on February 7th.

SAMHS students are working with a local business to create a design for t-shirts. A portion of the sale of those t-shirts will be donated back to the school and the student with the winning design will get a $50 gift card.

Mr. Josh Vincent – Virtual Academy

Virtual is currently serving 535 in district students in full time, part time, elective offerings, and credit recovery courses. Summer school will again be offered through the Virtual program for students this year in grades 6-12 for enrichment and credit recovery.

Ms. Jennifer Hobbs– Warren Area Elementary Center

Thank you to the Helping Our Children (HOC) community group for donating snacks each quarter to the WAEC Snack Shack. The generosity of the HOC group is greatly appreciated!

Mrs. Amy Stimmell – Warren Area High School

On Jan 29-30, 140 of the most talented instrumentalists came to WAHS for one of the first PMEA instrumental festivals in 2 years. The students, in grades 10-12, came from High Schools in Erie, Crawford, Warren, McKean, and Potter counties and performed 6 pieces at a concert on Saturday. They were directed by Mr. Christopher Gnagey as their guest conductor. WAHS students who participated are Tyler Johnson on trumpet, Zia Johnson on alto saxophone, Camden Drayer on trombone, Ethan Monroe on euphonium, Sydney Govoni on percussion and Colin Drayer was brought into the group at the last minute to fill a need on timpani. Camden Drayer and Sydney Govoni are moving on to Region Band in March.
