

Math 180 HMH Trial Agreement

Program Title Math 180

Grade Level(s) 7th Grade

The successful implementation of a Trial involves a shared commitment between Houghton Mifflin Harcourt Publishing Company (“HMH”) and Eisenhower Middle Senior High School (the “School/District”). This involves careful planning of all elements of program deployment, professional development, and assessment of results. This document is designed to guide and formalize the discussion of a planned Trial (the “Trial”) of HMH instructional materials or software programs (the “Trial Materials”), to structure the timelines for key activities associated with program success, and to serve as a Trial agreement (the “Trial Agreement”).

For this Trial, HMH agrees to the following (scheduling of which shall be determined by the parties at mutually convenient times and subject to change by either party upon reasonable notice):

- Organize initial surveys (Admin/Tech) with key stakeholders to determine Trial requirements: complete Trial process, number of teachers, number of students, grade level, predetermined length of Trial and training dates, and clear metrics for evaluation;
- Explain the essential elements of a model Trial implementation plan based on the above information;
- Provide an initial Trial initial webinar training for all School/District Trial teachers;
- Clarify material distribution process for set up and following Trial;
- Provide scheduled live webinar meetings with all School/District Trial teachers to train, answer questions, and problem-solve;
- Provide technology contact information and support to the School/District Trial teachers during the Trial;
- Provide regular communication via email to all School/District Trial teachers/Admin/Tech;
- Account Executive meets with School/District principals/leadership to finalize decision-making.

To participate in this Trial, the School/District agrees to the following:

- The School/District will undergo a technology discussion with the HMH Digital Solutions Consultant or Account Executive to ensure compatibility with School/District devices, bandwidth, etc., and HMH digital assets;
- The School/District will ensure Trial teachers will use the Trial Materials with fidelity and will follow intended pacing, as agreed upon between HMH and School/District and modeled in professional development sessions within appropriate School/District classroom parameters. The suggested pacing should allow extra time for newness of curriculum;
- The School/District will ensure Trialing classrooms will implement the Trial Materials as the core vehicle of instruction (when applicable) and according to the intended instructional design;
- The School/District will ensure Trial teachers will attend all scheduled professional development training provided by HMH, as agreed upon with the School/District in advance, and recorded on a Trial Action Plan (below), to be provided under separate cover. A participant may view the training video in a case where a live training time can not be accommodated.
