COURSE DESCRIPTION

Course Title: Modern World History

Course Number: 00191

Course Prerequisites: None

Course Description: This course covers the history of the modern world from the concept of industrialization to the present. Students will discover how the Industrial Revolution developed along with the political, economic, and social effects that occurred. Students will analyze how industrialization, nationalism, and imperialism led to global wars in the first half of the 20th century while evaluating the challenges and progress made after these global wars that have led us into the 21st century. Students will recognize and determine the importance of the interconnectedness of the various cultures of the modern world as well as learn how to evaluate the political, economic, and social changes that occurred throughout the modern world. District marking period assessments are required.
