SUPERINTENDENT

February 4, 2013

To the residents of the Warren County School District,

It is with a heavy heart that I announce my resignation as your Superintendent. I love my job, and I am very proud of the direction in which the School District is pointed.

As much as I love my job, my personal circumstances have to be my first priority, and taking those circumstances into account, I need to join my wife in York, PA, where my wife still lives and works. I feel I cannot fulfill my personal obligations to my wife and two children, without taking this step.

While I was here for only a year and a half, I hope you will join me in the belief that we have done solid work in that time...work that will have positive benefit for years to come. I am most proud of the building plan that we implemented. It is the right plan because it guarantees good buildings for your students at reduced operational savings of over $2 million per year. I am also confident that we met the drastic State budget reductions in a thoughtful process, with the result that education prospered as best it could, and that we did not bankrupt your savings.

I want to thank your School Board for both its understanding and its support. I have said it publicly many times, and I say it again here: your Board is a remarkable group of dedicated volunteers. They made my job a joy. I also want to express my sincere thanks to the staff and students of the Warren County School District. You welcomed me into your hearts, and I leave with many warm memories.

Finally, to the residents, I have thoroughly enjoyed being your Superintendent. The many words of encouragement have meant more than you know. I think this is a great community, a place one can truly be proud to call home, and it is a bittersweet proposition for me to leave this position and this community.

Sincerely,

Brandon L. Hufnagel
