Good Morning:

It would be greatly appreciated if you were able to attend our annual meeting in Minneapolis on Thursday, July 23, 2015.

Per our telephone conversation, I told you that our meeting in San Diego was the impetus for a new project at Lifetouch. We are creating, in conjunction with Fraser, the nationally recognized autism experts, a video module that teaches our 19,000 photographers how to better interact with children on the autism spectrum. We believe that this training will equip all of Lifetouch to better serve children with special needs.

When you expressed to me the value you placed in the photographers that photographed your son, we were off and running with this project. While we honestly believe this is good for our business, it is also the right thing to do.

Your introduction of this initiative and the experience your son had with our photographers will go a long way to validate our work in the eyes of Lifetouch leadership. We sincerely hope that you and your wife will be able to join us. As I promised, all expenses will be assumed by Lifetouch.

Again, thank you for your willingness to share.
